In the same endeavour, the Institute proposes a two-week NIAS-DST training programme on 'Science & Technology: Global Developments and Perspectives' to be held from 11 -22 November 2024 at NIAS campus in Bengaluru.

Consistent with the mission of NIAS, this training programme emphasizes the development of leadership qualities through the integration of multidisciplinary knowledge. The participants will have interactive sessions and discussions with distinguished speakers including eminent scientists, technologists, scholars, and professionals drawn from the public and private sectors. NIAS courses, conducted with the NIAS tradition of excellence with relevance, have always attracted tremendous response in the context of institutional capacity building, and participants also benefit from networking opportunities with experts and distinguished speakers.
