1. I am writing to you regarding optimum utilization of Army officers in various departments of the Govt/PSUs.

2. Army provides a conducive working environment for its officers to develop into competent and committed officers in various diverse roles. Our officers by virtue of institutionalised training and exposure do acquire some niche skills in not only technical domain but also in general administration or personal / material management. It is testimony to the faith reposed in these officers that presently about 140 officers are employed on deputation in diverse organizations such as NHA, IB, NTRO, TRAI, Coast Guard etc.

3. Being a hierarchical organization with limited structural ability to absorb all the officers in senior ranks, we look forward to identifying avenues for our officers in other departments through deputation route. I therefore seek your indulgence in considering Army Officers for deputation in your department for suitable employment.
